

Search for Sections Tip Sheet

Search for Sections is a tool that allows you to search for course sections offered in a given term which meet the specific criteria you've entered in the form. When using Search for Sections, you need to enter at least two search criteria, one of which must be the term.

Terms

All NVU terms with begin with the letter N.

Courses offered by campus-based departments will be listed in terms like N18SU, or N18FA

Courses offered through the NVU-Online program (formerly EDP/JSC-Online) will be listed in terms like N18SUO, or N18FAO – the trailing O indicating courses offered for Online program students.

Search Tips

You may use any combination of search criteria fields in the Search for Sections form. For example, you can search for ART courses meeting on Wednesdays taught by a specific instructor.

Searching for specific courses - If you are looking for courses bearing specific course prefixes (called Subjects in this form) you can use these fields to search for them. If you're looking for all sections of a specific course, choose the desired subject from the dropdown lists (e.g. ART) and enter in the course number in the Course Number Field (e.g. 1011), this search will return all sections for ART-1011 in the selected term.

NVU Locations and Course Types

The Location field is particularly helpful for NVU students as it allows them to filter their search based on where the courses are offered. Courses offered by Johnson campus department will begin with NJ, courses offered by Lyndon campus departments will begin with NL. Below is a chart of the NVU Locations you may see. To see sections offered at all locations in the specified term, leave the location field blank.

Many courses carry what are referred to as Course Types that correspond to a special designation. Below is a chart of the Course types currently used by Johnson and Lyndon. A list of NVU course types will come out once the NVU Gen Ed Core is fully defined.
